Candidates Await Voter Decision

A three-year term on the board of selectmen, sought by four candidates, holds the spotlight in Monday's annual town election.

There will be in excess of 15,000 registered voters eligible to participate, with a question on the ballot the only other item to be decided. All other offices are uncontested.

While there has been fear that the single contest may produce a low voter turnout, Town Clerk Elden R. Salter reports that there has been some encouragement toward a good response from the new voter registration.

Special sessions of the registrars during the past month, plus efforts of assistant registrars to enroll new voters has produced over 600 new registrations since the first of the year, the town clerk

Program To 'Sell' School Renovation Plan Begins

Easter Selection

Susan Rochwarg helps 12-year-old Ben Rewis select the traditional Lilly in preparation for Easter Sunday. Easter Sunday services in Andover churches are listed beginning on page 16.

While secondary school department heads this week began promoting their "wish lists" of facilities to be included in a building project, the school committee and administration began planning a campaign to convince town meeting of the need for $10 in renovations and additions at East Jr. High and the Shawsheen Road complex.

The committee last week agreed to ask the town for some $195,000 in planning funds for the two-part building project.

School Chairman David Ahouse Tuesday night asked committeemen to set up "sell" meetings with the parent-teacher organizations at the schools to which they are assigned, and Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert suggested informing parents about the project, and then seeking "convinced" ones to become spokesmen about town.

Meanwhile, East Jr. High Principal Richard McGrail has set up at least two tentative tours of his building for early April and is eager for more. It was a tour last fall that convinced the school committee and Finance Committee that something had to be done with that aging facility, and gained East the adjective "decrepit."

Seifert also asked for a list of most frequently asked questions to which they could develop answers for community purposes.

McGrail said Tuesday night that people keep asking him why they should invest heavily at the secondary level when elementary enrollments are declining.

"They just have to see it," he said, "and then added, "Furthermore, declining enrollment has nothing to do with needs. Some things we needed five years ago, some we need today, some we'll need five years from now."

McGrail said there are some facilities he would include just because he believed they should be, even though they wouldn't be scheduled full time.

For instance, he is recommending a band room with storage, practice space and proper acoustics, that would not be

Stickers Will Locate Tots In Case Of Fire

"Tot Finder" stickers that identify rooms in a home where youngsters sleep, will be available in May, Harold Wright of the Andover Fire Department told a group of pre-kindergarten parents Monday night.

Speaking at Parent Orientation Night, Wright said that 74 percent of all fires are started by youngsters under 11 years old and 34 percent, by youngsters in the 5 to 7 range.

Furthermore, he said, 25 percent of all fires are started by matches.

Young children feel secure in "close" places such as in their closets and under beds, he went on, and the Tot Finder stickers direct firemen to their rooms to search them out in case of a fire.

Each home with children, he said, should have one of the colorful stickers on the front door, and then one on the window of each room where a youngster sleeps. If there are two children in a room, there should be two stickers on that window.

Wright said he has ordered stickers from a Florida printer, and that they should be available in May.

Meanwhile, he urged parents to teach youngsters a primary escape route out of the house and a secondary escape route should the first one be blocked. They should also establish a meeting place for the family, preferably near the street, so firemen can find out right away if anyone is missing.

Wright also asked parents to remove Tot

Finder stickers when youngsters go to camp or to boarding school. It's an exercise in frustration, he said, for firemen to break their necks trying to get into a room to save only a Singer sewing machine.

Wright said special stickers will also soon be available for persons who are incapacitated and would need assistance to escape a fire.

Leaders

Bob Fiske, 25 Royal Crest, North Andover, and Thomas J. Peters, Houston, Texas were section leaders and tied for tenth overall in the North American Men's Bridge Pairs Championship. The two-day qualifying tournament drew a field of 488 players.

Town House Topics

Paul K. Butt, left, hands over deed for seven acres of land to Mrs. Virginia Hammond, conservation aide and Construction Inspector James Rand. Butt, builder and developer of Tilton Lane, a subdivision off Ballardvale Road, presented the town with the land as part of the cluster zoning provisions, which allows building on smaller lots and the remaining land turned over to the town for conservation and recreation use. The site is to be called the Ernest E. Anderson reservation, honoring a long time resident of the area. Rand, an abuttor of the property will be the warden of the reservation.

Deeds Land To Town

Selectmen Support Question

Selectmen, at their meeting Monday night issued a statement supporting a yes vote on the question appearing on the ballot in Monday's town election.

The referenda item, if approved, would remove from civil service status, the positions of office manager, clerks, stenographers and administrative assistants in the public works department.

Selectmen pointed out that the item has received affirmative votes from town meeting and the legislature and now must be approved by the voters at a general town election.

During the past several years Andover voters have supported similar questions on the ballot, thus removing most all positions within the DPW from civil service.

New Manager Begins Duties On Monday

Andover's new town manager, Jared S. A. Clark, will begin his duties here Monday morning.

Since his appointment by selectmen a month ago, Clark has been in Andover to discuss matters with Acting Town Manager Sheldon S. Cohen and the selectmen.

In addition to reviewing municipal business, Clark, during his Saturday visits, has also been looking over Andover real estate in anticipation of his move to town from Dover, N.H., where he has been city manager for the past two years.

chef's salad, Italian bread, spumoni ice cream and espresso.

Amblyopia Testing To Begin

The Andona Society will conduct its annual free pre-school vision screening in the elementary schools the weeks of March 27 and April 3 in conjunction with the Chapter 766 pre-kindergarten screening process. Screening for three and four year-olds will be held at South Church the week of April 24.

Mrs. Douglas Mitchell will direct the program, assisted by Mrs. Nicholas Orrick, Mrs. Michael Brink, Mrs. Larry Jones, and a group of Andona members, all of whom have been trained by the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Amblyopia, sometimes called "lazy eye," is a condition of reduced or dim vision in an eye which appears to be normal. Left undetected it often causes blindness, but it can be corrected if discovered early enough. Ideally, every child should be screened before his fifth birthday. The sooner a child with this condition receives proper treatment, the better are his chances of regaining normal vision. If a child's performance during the screening indicates that a vision problem may exist, the parents will be advised to arrange a professional eye examination.

It would be helpful if parents could teach their children the "E-game" before attending the screening. This may be done easily by using a large capital "E" and show-

It is hoped that every pre-school child in Andover will be able to attend a screening session.

Open Rehearsal

On Thursday, April 20th at 8 p.m. the public is invited to an open dress rehearsal of the Merrimack Valley Sweet Adelines, under the direction of Carl D'Ansio of Reading.

The rehearsal will be held at Tewksbury Junior High School, 10 Victor Drive, off route 38, in Tewksbury.

Free Lead Paint Tests Available

Lead poisoning testing will be available free at the Andover Health Department in Town Hall, from 10 to 11 a.m. on seven Wednesdays beginning next week.

Subsequent sessions will be held April 12 and 26, May 10 and 24, and June 7 and 21.

Early childhood specialist Linnea Gershenberg told a group of parents this week that the lead testing is not held as part of the regular pre-kindergarten screening, because it is voluntary. The other health and development tests are required by law for kindergarten admittance.

Furthermore, she said, they want youngsters to be in a happy mood for their Pre-K screening, and that most don't consider having their fingers pricked, as for lead paint testing, a terribly pleasant experience.

However, she said, the school department strongly encourages parents to take advantage of the lead screening, because lead poisoning still remains a serious threat to youngsters six years old and younger. While generally found in poorer housing, she said the risk of lead paint poisoning may exist in well-kept Andover homes as well. She estimated that 80 to 90 percent of homes built before 1950 are a serious hazard, and that includes some of the most expensively built older homes.

Lead poisoning, she said, can cause behavior problems which affect a child's performance in school, as well as serious neurological disturbances, if they go undetected.

Those who cannot make the Andover tests, may go to the Greater Lawrence Lead Prevention Program, on the 4th Floor of the Bay State Building, 11 Lawrence St., Lawrence, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. any Monday through Friday.

Program

used for a myriad of other activities.

One of the biggest things, McGrail said, is that this town has never built a junior high. There has never been a building designed for this age group.

East was built 50 to 75 years ago as a high school and turned into a junior high. In more recent years, West Jr. High was built as a high school, then turned into a junior high.

"The facilities are not supposed to be," McGrail said, "for adolescent kids. They just leave a lot to be desired."

McGrail told the school committee Tuesday night that additions and renovations at East would offer the town the greatest flexibility "in the middle," so that if school populations change, so could the school.

"I can see it as a middle school for Grades 6 to 8 or Grades 5 to 8 in a few years," he said. "It makes sense to expand in the middle where it could take on pupils from below or above."

Seifert said Tuesday that even if the town turns down the building project—which would actually only cost $5 million over a period of time because of 50 percent state reimbursements—the town would still be stuck with a $2 delayed maintenance bill for East, without any state aid.

McGrail said East's woes go back "a long time," to 10 and 12 years ago when there were promises that East wouldn't be used as a school any longer, and it was left to go downhill.

Furthermore, he said, there have been changes in education in the past 10 to 20 years that make East's facilities outdated.

A "general information" sheet handed out at Tuesday's meeting noted that most of East would have to be gutted to provide "necessary space" for 1978, and that some 20 to 25,000 square feet would have to be added, bringing the total in the vicinity of 125,000 square feet.

McGrail asked for 8,000 square feet for a media center, "greater than we have now and not much more than was appropriated for the other schools 4 to 5 years ago."

In the physical department, the present facility is too small to handle students for three periods of physical education a week, as recommended by state law. There is no area for storage equipment, no team room or coaching room for girls; inadequate show area for boys; no tennis courts consistent with other schools and much more.

In the maintenance area, studies show complete rewiring is needed, the heating system needs to be significantly overhauled, the roof needs to be replaced or repaired and windows need to be replaced.

reports. This is a record number compared to past pre-election registration sessions.

Campaigning for the selectman's seat are James Abramson, Andover businessman and president of the Chamber of Commerce; Karl Haartz, retired state department of public works employee and a frequent speaker at town meeting; Mrs. Janet D. Lake, former selectman, active in assisting senior citizens and in advisory committees of state and local government associations and Philip J. Other employees of the department have had the civil service classification removed through similar actions of past years.

Bowen; School Committee member Elaine Viehmann for a three-year term; Winston A. Blake, candidate for re-election to a five year term on the housing authority and Joan M. # Making Start Of School Painless Andover educators are taking great strides to make starting to school as painless as possible for both next year's kindergartners and their parents.

The process began with a Parent Orientation Night at West Elementary School Monday, and beginning next week, Pre-Kindergarten screening will take place at the six elementary schools.

Later on, the youngsters will report to their neighborhood schools for a week of the real thing, a shortened class period designed to make them feel at home and look forward to September.

Meanwhile, Pre-K parents have been invited to an April 12 session with school adjustment counselors entitled, "When Children Begin School." That meeting, in the Doherty School Library at 7 p.m., will include a film and discussion of the emotional issues that arise for both parents and children when children first go off to school. Parents interested in attending are asked to call Jackson School.

"A look at happy memories" is one way staffers are billing the upcoming screening sessions.

Mrs. Linnea Gershenberg, early childhood specialist who emceed Monday's meeting, said parents should arrive at the appointed hour armed with birth certificates, medical records, baby books and other means of refreshing their memories of their youngster's early development.

First steps and first words, she said, can tell the screening committee a lot about a child's development.

The whole idea of screening, she went on, is to identify any problems that might affect a child's ability to succeed in the classroom. Those problems, then, can be addressed early by referral to a doctor, another year in nursery school, a special summer program, speech therapy or a variety of other special services.

The one-hour screening sessions include a parent interview and a hearing test for the child, both with the school nurse; a speech and language session with a speech clinician; a child interview with his kindergarten teacher-to-be and a vision test, popularly known as the "E" game, by members of the Andover Society.

Parents of youngsters who will be five by Sept. 1 and therefore eligible for kindergarten this year, should already have contacted their neighborhood schools — or the Traditional School at West Elementary — and received a screening appointment and dates for orientation. Screening at this level is required by state law.

Fourth quarter youngsters, who will be five between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31 and prior to a new school committee ruling this year would have been entering kindergarten in the fall, may also take part in the screening and orientation, if their parents so request. They will then be given a special Gesell readiness test before they're admitted.

Screening will be held at Bancroft Monday through Wednesday of next week; at Sanborn, March 28 to 30; Doherty, March 29 to April 3; West Elementary, April 3 to 10; South School, April 4 to 7 and Shawsheen School, April 7 to 10.

Still another group — the three-and-four year olds — may be voluntarily screened April 24 to 28 at South Church. Parents are asked to call Jackson School for an appointment.

Steve Jankauskas, chairman of the core evaluation team, emphasized Monday night, that there is no "pass" or "fail" to the screening, and asked that parents feel free to ask any questions, any time. He suggested that parents could practice the "E" game, which is designed primarily to identify "lazy eye," at home in advance.

During the actual test, he said, the child will be asked to tell which way an "E" is pointing on an eye chart. The child will be wearing a patch over one eye while the other is tested.

School Nurse Carolyn Hetley said that the parent and child should report to their school office at the appointed hour and be met by the nurse for the parent interview and hearing test.

Speech Clinician Jean Sebell said they won't expect youngsters to speak perfectly. At this age, she said, they pause, repeat words, get words in the wrong order and use the wrong words. What we're looking for, she said are significant language difficulties that can be treated early in the game.

Bancroft teacher Betty Romeo said the teachers will interview the youngsters for cognitive-verbal, gross motor and fine motor development, and will record a child's attitudes and responsiveness.

Series Tickets Advantageous

In Rehearsal

Carolynn Skelton at the harpsichord and Lydia Whitehead, in rehearsal in preparation for the opening of the Cultural Series to be presented under the direction of the Recreation Community schools department.

For those who have looked over the Andover Cultural Series and thought "I'll buy tickets for this concert and that concert" — the Recreation/Community Schools Department would like to encourage thinking again — and then buy series tickets.

While the price differential is obvious (adults - $15 series vs $19 individual; students - $9 series vs $12 individual) the department has several goals in promoting the series concept. One of the primary interests is to develop not only a good home based cultural program but one that encourages socialization and a sense of community.

This will be done through the generosity of the Hewlett Packard Company, The Andover Savings Bank and The Andover Chamber of Commerce each of whom will be sponsoring a series ticket holder's reception. Those holding series tickets are invited to a Reception after each of the first three concerts. Guests will have an opportunity to meet with the performers while sharing complimentary champagne and snacks after the first concert and wine and cheese following the second and third concerts. These receptions are open to series ticket holders only and all refreshments are free.

The Premier Celebration will be held on April 2 at 3 p.m. in the Cochran Chapel. This concert by Phillips Academy music department faculty is a bonus concert for series ticket holders. It will feature The Andover Trio - Gerald Elias on violin, William Thomas on cello and Barbara Kautzman playing piano; Peter Lorenzo will play three Spanish guitar pieces. The third part of this Phillips Academy program presents Carolyn Skelton on harpsichord, Marcia Mulroney on baroque flute and Lydia Whitehead, soprano singer. The champagne reception for series ticket holders, celebrating the opening of the Series will be sponsored by Hewlett Packard in the Underwood Room at Phillips Academy.

The Yale Russian Chorus, a diversified and renowned male A Capella chorus will perform at Cochran Chapel on April 30, 3 p.m. Their extensive repertoire of folk, contemporary, classical and liturgical music is not to be missed. According to one reviewer, "this raggle-taggle looking bunch of men... opened their mouths and turned out to be one of the best disciplined choirs one has heard in a month of Sundays." A wine and cheese reception for series ticket holders will be sponsored by the Andover Savings Bank and held in the Underwood Room.

The Pocket Mime Theatre will perform on Friday, May 12 at 8 p.m. in Phillips Academy's George Washington Auditorium. The Andover Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a wine and cheese reception in the Underwood Room following the performance. Once again this is for series ticket holders only.

The final concert on June 17 is the New Black Eagle Jazz Band. A function room in the Sheraton Rolling Green has been provided by Harry Axelrod allowing the performance to be held cabaret style with dancing. There will be cash bar opened throughout the evening.

Series tickets may be purchased at posted locations throughout Andover. Tickets for individual events will be available immediately prior to each performance date.

Social Studies Fair Next Wednesday

Students have been preparing visual and written material to be presented at the fair which is open to the public.

Tribute

Tresa Hughes and Joan Welles have been signed by producer Morton Gottlieb for featured roles in "Tribute," Bernard Salde's new play starring Jack Lemmon, which opens at Boston's Colonial Theatre on Thursday, April 6, and runs through April 29. Also featured are: Robert Picardo, Catherine Hicks, Rosemary Prinz and A. Larry Haines. Arthur Storch is the director.

Andover High Notebook

By Renee Pruneau

The leprechauns were haunting Andover high on St. Patrick's Day. Everywhere you turned, students were wearing buttons declaring themselves honorary Irishmen, telling people to kiss them because they were Irish, or stating the leprechauns ate bagels. There were very few who overlooked this fun-loving holiday by not wearing the customary green or even orange. The Junior Class sold green carnations in honor of the day. This proved to be highly lucrative as could be seen when walking down the hall. Nearly every student and teacher was wearing or carrying one of those green boutonnières. Some students chose to entertain their classes by singing "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." The entire school seemed Irish for the day.

Anyone who knows an Andover High Student, might notice they have been uneasy lately; easy to upset, or maybe even preoccupied. Some may attribute this to Spring Fever. It very well may be, but more likely than not, it has to do with the fact that many term paper deadlines are coming up — fast. English, History, Science — they're all piling up. These papers have been assigned for at least two months. They each count for about 25 percent of the third or fourth term grade. For level four classes, they are a prerequisite for a passing mark. Advice for anyone who knows a student with a term paper due in the near future — Humor him. He'll need it.

The weekend of March 17-19 was designated as the A.F.S. weekend. American Field Service students from area towns came to Andover. They stayed with Andover A.F.S. club members.

the club. Friday night there was a potluck supper, followed by bowling. Saturday plans called for an afternoon at Rec Park with skating and sledding, and just plain fun.

Saturday evening a party, hosted by Paige and Polly Whitley was the main event. Sunday morning a pancake breakfast was planned at the home of Mrs. Ryden. Katie Gannon was in charge of the weekend. She did a fantastic job as everyone enjoyed their stay and the club

East Junior Happenings

By Matt Lenoe

The East Junior High and Debating Club were both involved in meets last week. The Debating club had its annual meet with West. The topic was whether Quebec should be allowed to secede from Canada. East, with the negative side, won the debate. East debaters Hilary French and Matt Lenoe won the best constructive speaker and best rebuttal speaker awards respectively. Paul Berger was the third East debater.

In the Math League meet Michele Barron, Chip Gonsalves, Mark Orrell, Adam Robinson, Nicole Romito and Paul Berger all had perfect scores in one or more categories. High scorer for the ninth grade was Adam Robinson with 16, for the eighth grade Mark Orrell with 9 and for the seventh grade, Chip Gonsalves with 10.

Both the eighth and ninth grades have had assemblies recently dealing with high school course selections. The eighth graders had credits and electives explained. Although they will still be going to the junior high next year, technically they will be high school students.

The ninth grade students met with representatives of the various departments at the high school who explained the courses offered in the catalogue to help the students plan their classes for next year.

East's English Department has two interesting extracurricular activities going on. A poet is visiting the school several times each week for ten weeks to give an introduction to poetry to the students from all grades.

The ninth grade is currently involved in an interview program. Several groups of three students go out every week and interview elderly people who have lived in Andover for their entire lives. It is hoped the interviews will be published in a book on Andover history.

The Social Studies Department is gearing up for the Social Studies Fair to be held Wednesday, March 29. Students in all three grades will be participating.

With the advent of Spring ninth grade baseball coach, Mr. Boudreau, called a pre-tryout meeting this week.

Candidates Address Issues

By Linda S. Corbett

Concerns over a small turnout for Tuesday's election appeared well-founded this week, as a mere 60 people showed up for the traditional Candidate's Night—many of them candidates' families and campaign workers, and members of the sponsoring League of Women Voters.

The main event, so to speak, was appearance of the four candidates for the three-year seat on the Board of Selectmen. Each spoke five minutes on division of responsibility between the selectmen and the town manager, and then settled back to answer a trickling of questions about growth policy, conservation land, property valuation and dogs.

Taking the podium though unopposed, were School Committeeman Elaine Viehmann, seeking a second three-year term and Virginia Cole, running for a one-year selectman seat. Town Moderator Candidate James Doherty also put in a cameo appearance (see separate story).

Candidate Jim Abramson drew the lead-off speaking spot, among the four contestants, followed by Karl Haartz, Philip Salamone and Janet Lake.

They all generally agreed that the selectmen make the policy, the town manager implements it. Abramson, however, felt the issue was much more complex, and that the selectmen should involve themselves in all issues that concern the general welfare of the town, by seeking input from the town manager, the assistant and the department heads before making policy.

"Here the rubs come," he said. "Do you watch him every day?"

"I say no," Abramson went on. "It has happened far too often." He said the manager should be given time for implementation and report to the board on a regular basis, and that the board should "stay off his back" if he's doing his job.

"We must start off dealing in good faith," he said of the new manager. "Each element should want to do its own job and not the others."

Karl Haartz said the selectmen should set rules by which they are kept informed of the manager's doings.

Other precautions are necessary, however, he said, and suggested a "direct and mostly fool-proof" method known as the "five percent rule." This would require the manager to come back to the board with an explanation, or for approval of any spending program that is five percent above or below estimated cost. Money, he said, remains the most direct method of keeping track of policy content and accomplishment.

Salamone added that Selectmen should constantly evaluate the work of the manager and when necessary, redress him.

Meanwhile, he said, the selectmen should remind themselves that they aren't mayors, that the town manager is the chief executive officer responsible for the smooth running of the town's operations, while the selectmen are the pulse of the citizens.

If the town manager-selectmen system is working well, Salamone concluded, a creative tension exists. It is this energy, he said, that produces "responsive government."

The complexity of today's problems, said Mrs. Lake, requires professional administration of the town, and one of the selectmen's most significant roles is hiring the manager, who in turn has responsibility to appoint many people to various boards and commissions.

She said the manager should keep the selectmen fully informed, but also subscribed to the tenet that the selectmen shouldn't breath down his neck all the time. This, she said, develops an adversary position that's detrimental to the town.

While Moderator Joanne Marden,

League president, elicited written questions from the audience, School Committeeman Casimir Kolaski led off from the floor, asking how the candidates felt about the growth of business in existing residential areas.

Abramson liked the Central Business District committee's idea of a "buffer zone" where professional offices would occupy former residences, keeping their residential look on the outside. This would maintain the residential character of nearby neighborhoods, he said. There would be a doctor or a lawyer's office next to a house, not a commercial establishment.

Haartz had "no quarrel" with that arrangement, and cited a professional building on Florence Street that, he says, molded into the residential block.

However, he said, growth policy was primarily the responsibility of the planning board and not the selectmen.

Before she would allow commercial development to expand into residential areas, Mrs. Lake said she would first encourage wise use of "what we already have."

For instance, she said, if parking behind Town Hall were more restricted to allow a greater turnover of cars, Barnard Street and Park Street would be more viable for business. As it is, she said, it's difficult to park there, and at least one business is being forced to close.

East Jr. High had once been considered for administrative offices, she said, and other areas around the park for cultural development such as a library. Then, she said, Andover would once again have a "common."

She concluded that she would support a buffer idea, but would rather see small size multiple residences than professional offices.

Salamone also expressed concern about any expansion of the CBD, but said he wanted it to remain viable.

Expansion of business anywhere in town represents an intrusion, he said, and he felt that the selectmen should develop a way to first solicit the desires of the people who would be most affected, and then consider the impact townwide.

In answer to a question about 100 percent valuation Haartz said "the issue is already settled for us because it is a state law and the town is faced with a law suit for not complying."

"Why," he asked, "take a lot of time mulling over it when we'd just be beating a dead horse?"

Mrs. Lake felt the town should lose no time in at least starting the process of revaluation rather than waiting for the state to come in and impose it. "I prefer that we do it ourselves," she said, "rather than waiting for the state to come in and impose it. 'I prefer that we do it ourselves.'" she said, "rather than get a poorly done job by the state."

Salamone suggested studying the situation so the town could take the best possible posture in the courts. He too, would prefer to choose an appraisal firm rather than have one appointed by the state.

Abramson was more willing to seek legal counsel on whether or not the town has grounds to fight the suit. Boston has never been revaluated, he said, while Andover has twice.

"I don't like tilting at windmills," he added, "so if we are advised that we can't fight it, we should go ahead and do it ourselves."

How would the candidates propose to control dogs?

Abramson said he'd like to get the dogs over with and "get down to the business of running the town. There's already a strong dog law proposed, he said. "We should vote it in with the appropriate funds to enforce it, or vote it out and forget about it."

"We're wasting a lot of time, he said, "when there are a lot of issues in town far more important."

Haartz murmured "Amen" and Mrs. Lake, "likewise."

Asked their opinion of the proposed trade center in West Andover, Mrs. Lake said she had some "grave reservations" because it seemed like a people-intensive program that could bring crowds to town and add to expenses rather than to the tax base.

However, she said, the presentation to date has been too nebulous.

Salamone had doubts about the size of the proposed center, but felt the town should be sensitive to the needs of Arkwright-Boston, who bought the 500-acre "Tech Park" (subsequently supplied with town water and sewer), and has brought in only Hewlett-Packard as a tenant. "We do owe them support," Salamone said. "They have been a good friend in trying to develop the park."

Abramson believed that the selectmen should be doing everything they could to encourage development of the area that could guarantee more tax money rather than more services.

He said he would favor a trade center that had proper financial backing. "We talk about wanting clean industry," he said. "This would be no industry." However, he said he feared that the current backers of the project don't have sufficient money to put it over.

He added that he felt too much responsibility has been placed on the town's Industrial Development Commission to encourage growth, while the Selectmen have done too little.

The Selectmen, he said, should be working actively with Arkwright-Boston and meeting with potential developers.

Developing industry, he said, is the only way to fund projects for the town's future without increasing the tax rate.

Haartz added that the "depression" of 1973 to 76 had knocked Arkwright's schedule "way off," and that they're now trying to do what they can to recover. "We should assist them in every way possible," he said.

Should Andover stop buying conservation land, or add more, such as the Turner Farm?

Salamone felt that acquiring more land should depend on what the town is trying to do. If we're trying to stop growth of single family homes, he said, then it may be cheaper to buy the land than to provide those homes with services and schools. He added that the town would be buying more land anyway, probably within the year, to protect its watershed.

He said more information on the Turner Farm needs to be forthcoming before

'Shoo-Ins' Also Give Views

School Committeeman Elaine Viehmann, unopposed for a second three-year term, told the Candidate's Night audience Tuesday that she is mainly concerned about secondary facilities and redistricting.

"I'm convinced of the need to renovate East Jr. High," she said, "and if you're not convinced, join the League of Women Voters at 7:30 p.m. on April 3 for a tour."

Not only are there severe maintenance problems, she said, but structural ones as well.

For instance, she said, it's very difficult to teach in the long, narrow classrooms, when 7th graders need to be nearer their teacher.

She favored adding an auditorium at the high school, and claimed that Town Meeting has made mistakes by not doing so in the past. As a result, she said, it has never been possible to bring an entire class together for an event. They miss out on a lot of programs, she said. One program has to be shown two or three times in a row "and that's costly and inconvenient."

She also expressed need for expanded media, and physical facilities. We're not able to offer secondary students as many minutes of physical education a week as the state recommends, she said.

In the area of redistricting, she said the plan just approved is good for only five years, and that the committee should do another population study every two years.

Her "preferences, not promises" in that area include:

1. Keeping all schools open because the population trend may reverse eventually.
2. Not redistricting an area just redistricted.
3. Not making moves more often than every three or four years, so that "doom isn't hanging over heads."
4. Offering orientation each time changes are made, to help pupils make the adjustments.

Asked whether the secondary pupils will be faced with double sessions during construction, she said it was an architect's opinion that the project would take longer and be more costly if the students were to stay in the building.

If they went on doubles, she said, it would mean cutting out all the "fringes," but she hoped the Department of Recreation/Community Schools could add activities for teenagers whose day would end at 12:30 or so.

The high school, she said, wouldn't be so disrupted during construction because a lot of the work there would be outside.

Virginia Cole, the lone candidate for the one year remaining of Richard Bowen's term, said she felt her past six years as a member of the Finance Committee had been great training for the job of selectmen. She also formerly served on the school committee.

Her three areas of concern include improved communication between the school committee and the selectmen, Andover's lack of a comprehensive, effective growth policy and Andover's concern outside its borders.

She said the town can't operate effectively or efficiently unless the schoolmen and selectmen cooperate. We don't need two data processing systems or two purchasing agents," she said.

A growth policy she went on, will become a priority of the new town manager.

Finally, she said, while the first concern should be that things are working well within town, Andover should also be involved in Essex County and regional matters.

"We haven't made ourselves heard," she said, even though this year the town paid $372,000 to the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District, $4,200 to the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission, $218,000 to the Voke School and $1 million to Essex County.

"The Essex County Advisory Board didn't even meet this year," she said and concluded, "I've been trying to save $15 here and $15 there on the Finance Committee. Essex County is the place to get involved and really save."

Bluebirds compete unsuccessfully with starlings for nesting sites in dead trees. A trail of 7,000 starling-proof nesting boxes, on fence posts or poles, runs 2,000 miles between two towns in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Massachusetts Audubon notes. During 1976 more than 8,000 young bluebirds were produced on the trail.

Tenebrae Service On Friday

Friday, evening, March 24, at 7:30 p.m., the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, 244 Lowell St., will celebrate a family Tenebrae service.

This ancient Good Friday celebration, in the symbolism of first growing darkness and then growing light, seeks to re-awaken the memories of those who have served as great examples to humanity. All persons of, whatever religious affiliations, are invited to this service, and a pot-luck dessert hour that follows. All ages are welcome in the service.

Child care will be available.

Concert Benefits Bible School

A Benefit Concert will be held on Sunday, April 2, at 7:30 p.m. in South Church, Andover. Proceeds will go to the Greater Lawrence Vacation Bible School.

This ecumenical school has been providing religious training and recreation to growing numbers of children in this area.

Last summer 670 children were served at six centers. The concert is being sponsored by the Andover members of the Greater Lawrence Council of Churches.

The LOS S.E.R.S. are a group of 45 singers and instrumentalists from Spanish Free Methodist Church in Lawrence. The group formed eight years ago and has performed throughout the Northeast.

Family Service Sunday

Sunday, March 26th, at 10:30 a.m., the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, 244 Lowell Street, will hold its Family Service of Celebration for Spring-Passover-Easter. In the foods, symbols, words, songs, stories, flowers, of the various seasonal celebrations of hope and renewal, the service seeks to re-awaken the universal impulse that speaks in this season.

Child care for the youngest children is available, but all are invited to attend the service.

Dr. Randolph Lehman-Becker, senior minister, will be assisted by Ministerial Associate Christine Robinson, and Student Minister Jean Rickard.

Billy Carter's in Big Trouble For TV Comments About Flynt

WASHINGTON — Billy Carter has been shooting off his mouth again. But this time, the president's brother has talked himself into a predicament. The police are quietly checking out some threatening statements Billy made about pornographic publisher Larry Flynt.

The controversial Flynt was gunned down recently in Lawrenceville, Ga. A few weeks before the shooting, Billy said he had a man out looking for Flynt. Billy made his statements on the Phil Donahue talk show. Someone in the audience asked Billy about Flynt's relationship with the president's evangelist sister, Ruth Carter Stapleton.

Billy snorted: "I didn't like the wild comments he made about Mother." This was a reference to Flynt's comment that he would use Miss Lillian Carter's face on a nude centerfold in Hustler magazine.

Billy continued: "I've got a man looking out for him, and the first thing he's going to do is beat the hell out of him."

A startled Phil Donahue warned Billy that some viewers might take him seriously. But Billy insisted: "It's true."

Later, Donahue gave Billy another chance to back off. But the president's brother again confirmed that he had a "man looking for Flynt."

Not long afterward, Flynt was shot in Billy's home state of Georgia. It's unlikely that Billy's television threat was serious. But it may have been taken seriously by a lunatic who saw the TV show.

Anyway, the police in Gwinnett County, Ga. are investigating Billy's remarks. They're handling the investigation cautiously because of its political sensitivity.

We left calls all over the country for Billy's comment. But apparently, he's now keeping his big mouth shut.

More Trouble for Billy: A year ago, we exposed a Georgia oil scandal that could embarrass President Carter. We reported that the Atlanta office of the Federal Energy Administration had mishandled emergency fuel supplies during the Arab oil embargo.

The supplies were not intended for retail dealers, yet the president's brother, Billy Carter, received emergency fuel for his gas station in Plains, Ga.

Some of the improper emergency orders were signed by James McIntyre and Omi Walden. They were then Georgia state officials. Now, McIntyre is the president's budget director. And Walden has been nominated to a top energy post.

We want to stress that Billy Carter, James McIntyre and Omi Walden have not been accused of wrongdoing.

The Energy Department belatedly began investigating the Georgia oil scandal. The findings were supposed to have been submitted to the Justice Department last month. But there has been a mysterious delay. Our sources assure us the investigation will be referred to the Justice Department soon.

However, two powerful congressmen plan to demand a special prosecutor. Energy Chairman John Dingell, D-Mich., and Oversight Chairman John Moss, D-Calif., want to avoid any possibility of a whitewash. They may also ask Attorney General Griffin Bell to exclude himself from the investigation.

White House Deception? Washington is buzzing about the resignation of White House aide Mark Siegel. He had been the main link between the Carter administration and the Jewish community.

We can now reveal his real reason for resigning. Siegel complained that National Security Council officials had lied to him about the F-15 fighters that President Carter wants to sell to Saudi Arabia. Siegel was told these latest jets were strictly defensive interceptors, with limited offensive capability.

He was also assured that Tabuk, a Saudi Arabian airbase only 125 miles from Israel, is a civilian installation. That's not all. He protested that a background memo from the president's National Security adviser, Zbigniew Brzezinski, also contained misleading information.

Siegel felt he had been deceived. Worse, he suspected the National Security Council had sought to mislead the Jewish community through him. He served notice, therefore, that he would no longer serve as the White House spokesman to the Jewish community.

Two powerful White House aides, Hamilton Jordan and Jody Powell, sympathized with Siegel and supported him. Finally last Thursday, he spent 20 minutes with the president. Siegel repeated his charges about the deceptive information. The president listened closely and nodded soberly. Our sources say Carter understood Siegel's reason for resigning. But the resignation has severely strained Carter's relations with the Jewish community.

Watch on Waste: There is a constant battle inside the federal government to reduce waste. Yet appalling sums of the taxpayers' money continue to be squandered.

Telephone service, for example, runs into the millions. Next to writing memos, the bureaucrats dearly love talking on the telephone. They would like fancy, push-button telephones, but these cost more money than ordinary dial phones. So the White House issued an executive order prohibiting push-button telephone systems.

Nevertheless, the Marine Corps is installing 100,000 push-button models in the Washington area anyhow. A spokesman explained that the phone companies gave the Marines a good deal. The installation fee was waived. The spokesman said this would save more than $1,900,000.

The truth is, the rental for push-button telephones will cost the Marines $2,200,000 extra each year.

Lawrence High Site Choice May Relocate Sewer Line

If the city of Lawrence decided to build a new high school on the proposed South Lawrence site, it will result in moving the Andover trunk sewer line which runs through the area.

While the city is still debating the final location of the new facility—some sentiment now expressed for use of the Campagnone Common, rather than the Shawsheen Road, South Lawrence location—Andover officials have been asked for permission to allow the moving of the lines.

Director of Public Works Robert E. McQuade told selectmen Monday night that he had been asked by city officials if Lawrence could be granted permission to move the trunk sewer line.

Selectmen were cautious in responding, not wanting to become involved in a political controversy regarding the final decision on a site location by the city. But, the board seemed prepared to grant permission when and if it becomes necessary.

Andover's trunk sewer line, runs from the Riverine Road pumping station in Shawsheen following a general course along the Shawsheen river to its terminus with lines going to the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District plant in North Andover. Before the plant was in operation, the sewer line emptied into the Merrimack at the terminus of the Shawsheen river in North Andover.

The route of the line was agreed to over 75 years ago between Andover and Lawrence officials. The city provides an easement to the town for the sewer path and also has the right to enter the sewer line in the Lawrence area. If the new high school is built in South Lawrence, it will be serviced by the Andover trunk line.

The moving of the line would be in the rear of the property now occupied by the armed forces reserve center near the Lawrence stadium, and also near the Breen elementary school.

What is planned, if the school is built in the Shawsheen park area, is to remove fill from the building site and place it on proposed layfield sites resulting in the trunk line being buried deeper. Moving the line would better accommodate the plan.

Selected All-State Musician

Mark Grigoli a senior at Andover High School has once again been selected to play at the All-State Music Conference sponsored by the Massachusetts Music Educators Association.

This year, the conference, will be held at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

Mark has been selected to play in the Northeastern District concerts since the 7th grade and All-State since the 10th grade. Students are selected through auditions in competition with other students from throughout the State. The selections are made on the basis of best scores in eight categories; tone quality, intonation, rhythm, technique, articulation, interpretation, scales and sight reading. Concert dates are March through April 1.

Mark has also been accepted at the University of Lowell and Miami University as a music major next year.

The All-State Jazz Ensemble will be directed by Hank Levy, noted arranger, composer, and performer.

Vandals Drive Car Into School

Andover police are seeking information about the driver of a car who went joy riding in the West Elementary School parking lot late Saturday night and then, as a finale, backed through the front doors.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert estimated that the replacement cost of the doors will be $2,000 to $3,000, while Principal Eugene Frulla expressed the absolute frustration of realizing what people will do to school property, and that the costs will come out of the education budget.

Frulla said the incident occurred sometime between midnight Saturday, when a man went off duty at West, and 7:30 a.m. Sunday, when security men discovered the damage.

While some other schools have been hit by vandalism recently, Frulla said West hadn't been hit this year at all, in fact, "not in a long time."

Seifert said this week that youths caught in earlier vandalism spees at Sanborn and the high school have "paid in full" the cost of the damage they incurred, primarily with money earned from summer jobs.

School Door Hit

Front entrance to the West elementary school is boarded up after vandals drove car through lot and on the sidewalk leading to the front door sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning. Tire marks were prevalent in the parking lot and on the sidewalk leading to the front door indicative of burning rubber.

Teamsters Retained

Andover school administrators voted 13-6 Monday to maintain their affiliation with Teamsters Local 380.

The election had been ordered and was supervised by the State Labor Relations Board after six of the 19 administrators petitioned for decertification of the Teamsters. No other union appeared to be placed on the ballot, however, making the choice the Teamsters or no organization at all.

Local 380 President Philip Wormwood, principal of Andover high, said the Teamsters tenure is good for at least a year before it can be challenged again.

Meanwhile, he said, the election won't change anything in the contract now being negotiated between the local and the school committee. Salary remains the main issue preventing a settlement. The current contract expires June 30.

The Teamsters came into the picture two years ago, when the administrators (principals, assistant principals program advisors, pupil personnel administrator and vocational counselor) withdrew as the administrative arm of the Andover Education Association (affiliated with the Massachusetts Teachers Association).

Two administrators never joined the Teamsters, but are required by Clause 6 of the contract with the school committee to pay an agency fee, which now amounts to the same as membership dues. Two more administrators have, since withdrawn their membership, and two others went along as far as signing the petition and, apparently, voting to oust the union.

The Monday Election

Ever stop to think what would happen if they held an election and nobody showed up?

That would appear to be the plight facing Andover this coming Monday as the annual town election campaign comes to an end.

A year ago, with several contests on the ballot, and issues to debate and decide, under 40 percent of Andover's registered voters took the time — the few minutes required — to exercise their franchise.

This year, we fear, the turnout could be even smaller, with only one contest on the ballot and one referendum question to be acted upon.

Why the lack of interest is puzzling.

In recent years, attention has swung from the school committee activities to the selectmen, in pendulum fashion. But, always there has been interest among Andover's residents in offering themselves to public service.

This year a vacancy in the office of moderator brought out only the single candidate to fill the post.

An incumbent seeking re-election to the school committee is uncontested.

A one year vacancy on the board of selectmen has but a single candidate.

The present office-holder is the only one seeking return to the Andover Housing Authority and one person will be a candidate to fill a vacancy on the Punchard Free School Trustees.

The interest lies in the three year term on the board of selectmen, with four candidates making every effort to interest the voters in their respective candidacies.

All have worked hard to get their messages to the voters and to impress upon Andover residents the importance of having a voice in the makeup of the board of selectmen.

The other matter to be decided by the electorate on Monday is the removal of civil service status for the office manager, secretaries, stenographers and aides in the public works department. This allows a procedure initiated a few years ago through which the town has dropped the civil service status for public works employees. The measure was approved for placing on the ballot by the voters at town meeting and by the legislature.

Thus, with only the single contest and the one question to be resolved, there is a very definite threat of a poor turnout.

The TOWNSMAN in recent years, has issued endorsement of candidates for Andover offices.

This year, with the single contest, we feel compelled to refrain from issuing support for any single candidate, in the hopes that a heavy turnout of voters will better determine the wishes of the Andover electorate.

The four candidates have worked hard, have discussed their thoughts about the directions the town should be taking during coffee hours and candidates forums.

Now it is up to the voters to decide.

We hope the candidates' efforts will be rewarded by an excellent turnout on Monday.

School Start

youngsters will report to school 1½-to-2 hours a day for a week, to get acquainted with their school, teachers, janitors and principal. "We want them," said Doherty Kindergarten Teacher Grace Jamison, "to feel this is their school and their room, so they'll be eager to return in September."

Orientation Week will be May 1 to 5 at Bancroft and South; May 8 to 12 at Sanborn and Doherty; May 15 to 19 at West and May 22 to 25 at Shawsheen (afternoons only).

In answer to a question about the traditional program, Mrs. Gershenberg said parents who may be interested should contact Principal Eugene Frulla at West Elementary. Some parents said they had heard there is a waiting list for the 44 tradition kindergarten slots, but Frulla said Tuesday that all applicants are on a waiting list until they have been screened. More than 44 have applied. Mrs. Gershenberg said she has trained for a week at the Gesell Institute in Connecticut, and will be administering the short, 15-minute readiness test to the 39 "fourth quarter" youngsters who have applied.

She noted that only about 28 percent of fourth quarter five-year-olds are traditionally ready for kindergarten, and that most of those are girls. Boys are about six months behind, she said, and added that in Russia, Scandinavia and China, youngsters don't start school until they're seven, when all their systems are developed so they can go right into reading.

The object of the new Sept. 1 cut-off date, she said, is so the kindergartners will be developmentally of the same age.

When you're in doubt, she added, it's better to stay out another year. Developmental delays don't always show up in kindergarten, she said, but rather in first or second grade when they have to buckle down. Sometimes, she said, they don't show up until junior high.

Poisoned Dogs

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

While poisoning of animals with insecticides, etc., may not be an uncommon occurrence in rural Andover in the summer, it would seem to me to be so in the winter. In the past two weeks, two dogs have been poisoned to death on Osgood Street west of route 93.

It is difficult for me to imagine what a family pet could do to evoke such wrath. Since there are laws which prohibit keeping such poisons where a dog or child might wander, the poisonings were ob-

St. Robert's Clinches Senior Title

By Rick Harrison

Undefeated St. Robert's B made it official, clinching the Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division regular season championship with a 41-38 decision over second place St. Augustine A.

It was the second meeting in four days between the archrivals, with the earlier confrontation going to St. Robert's 46-45 in double overtime.

The result left St. Robert's B at 10-0, three games ahead of runner-up St. Augustine A with just two games remaining.

The most recent meeting between the Senior powerhouses was slightly tarnished by the fact neither team was at full strength.

Both clubs were missing two players, including one key man, due to a conflict with a tournament team.

In other Senior play at West Junior High, St. Robert's A nudged Christ Church 35-30 in a seesaw struggle, while rejuvenated St. Augustine B cracked the victory column with a surprisingly easy 49-29 conquest of Ballardvale United.

St. Robert's B, 41-38

Neither team could find much breathing room, although St. Robert's B managed to stay on top at each quarter break.

St. Robert's B led 10-8 after one period, 21-16 at the half and 28-25 after three quarters.

Both teams fired through 13 points in the final stanza, as Don Lindsey with six and Bob Leitch with five markers helped keep St. Robert's B unbeaten.

Their efforts offset the late two-man heroics of St. Augustine stalwarts Tim Hart and Dennis Sheehan, who tossed in eight and five points respectively during the fourth period.

Leitch finished the game with 17 points, Bill Troy added 9, Lindsey 8 and Don O'Brien 7 points.

Tim MacLeean and Mike Murphy chipped in strong all-around efforts for the winners.

Tim Hart led the answering fire with 16 points for St. Augustine A, Brian McGettrick scored 9, Dennis Sheehan 7, Ed Powers 4 and Dave Fluett canned a first period basket.

St. Robert's A, 35-30

St. Robert's A revisited the sunny side of .500, wiping out a 16-12 halftime deficit enroute to the 35-30 win over Christ Church.

The victors actually moved ahead thanks to their prowess at the free throw line. Mike Leary swished 4-of-4 and A. J. McGovern 2-of 3 charities in the third period, keying a 10-4 St. Robert's A burst for a 22-20 lead.

In the final quarter Leary flipped in six more points, including 4-of-5 foul shots, as St. Robert's went on a 13-10 binge to secure the victory.

Christ Church held a 12-10 advantage in fieldgoals during the game, but St. Robert's converted 15-of-26 charities to C-C's 6-of-16.

C-C also had four players foul out. Mike Leary led St. Robert's in scoring with 15 points, including an excellent 9-for-11 at the free throw line.

Tom Palma hooped 6 points, Gregg Praetz 4, Pete Albert 4, A.J. McGovern 4 and Jeff Deveau 2 for St. Robert's.

Also contributing fine efforts were Bruce Crochetiere, Barry Lemieux, Yvan Levesque and Ken Saliba.

Mark Rogers netted a game-high 16 points for C-C, Mark Frost stuffed 11, Eric Fredette 2 and Mark Mitchell had a free throw.

John Rogers and Todd Durant also played hard for C-C.

St. Augustine B, 49-29

Ballardvale, missing a couple of its top scorers, was not match for St. Augustine B which raced to a 13-2 first quarter lead and then coasted home.

Chuck Singer, a welcome recent addition to the St. Augustine B roster, led all marksmen with 20 points including 6-of-8 at the charity stripe.

Mark Paradis tossed in 8 points, Steve Parker 6, Steve Paradis 5, Greg Shepard 4, Steve Farrington 4 and John Parker 2 points for St. Augustine.

Kevin Hollenbeck sparked the counter-attack with 13 points for BU, Bill Crabtree notched 7, Pete Crabtree 6, Robbie Robinson 2 and Russ Bird a fourth period foul shot.

Dave Brown and Kurt Jensen also played well for United.

Scoring Race

Vickers, Zimmerman Pace Leaders

By Rick Harrison

South-Baptist chalked up its 10th straight victory of the Season, and did it without going into overtime, as the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate "Gold" Division leaders toppled St. Augustine B by a 40-28 count in recent action.

Second place St. Robert's D continued its offensive fireworks with a 48-19 romp over St. Augustine A, and St. Robert's C squared its ledger with a 2-0 forfeit decision over West Parish A.

South-Baptist, 40-28

Billy Vickers and Scott Zimmerman dunked six points apiece as South-Baptist assumed a commanding 15-4 first quarter edge, and the leaders simply traded buckets with St. Augustine B the rest of the way enroute to the 40-28 triumph.

Vickers, who heads all four ACBL divisions in scoring with 162 total points, poured through 17 while Zimmerman cracked the century mark for the season with 16 to power the S-B victory.

Darren Lowe contributed 5 points and Jim Denoncourt stuffed a last period basket to complete the South-Baptist offense.

Joe Nerden and Ken Doherty led the way for St. Augustine B, which has played much stronger ball over the last month, netting 8 points each.

Mark Perowski delivered all 6 of his markers in the second half, John Nerden popped in 4 points and Glen Markey had a third quarter fieldgoal.

St. Robert's D, 48-19

St. Robert's D, which has now drilled the nets for 144 points in its last three games (48.0 per game average), inched ahead 5-4 in the first period and then unloaded the heavy artillery to bury St. Augustine A, 48-19.

Jim Terrion had all five St. Robert's markers in the opening session, then added eight in the second period while Tom Middleton had seven as the victors assumed a commanding 22-8 halftime bulge.

Terrion pumped through eight additional points in the third quarter — and school was out.

Terrion finished the game with 21 points, all in the first three periods.

Tom Middleton chipped in 9 markers, including a perfect 5-of-5 at the free throw line, while Bobby French netted 8 points and Jim Griggs 6.

Second half baskets by Todd Sleath and Dan Poore wrapped up the winners' barrage. Tim Moynihan also played well.

Tom Bolduc did the most damage for St. Augustine A with 7 points, Mark Connolly and Dick Kelley added 4 apiece, Brian Mackey 2 and Jim Seltzer 2.

Rick Desmarais' bucket to open the third period cut the gap to 21-18, but moments later the referee called the game and awarded St. Robert's a forfeit win after three technical fouls were assessed to the West team.

The forfeit unfortunately wiped out all sudden halt were Buddy Ward, Tom O'Brien and Rob Veilleux.

Danny Kimball had pocketed eight points for West Parish, Steve Johnson 4, Rick Desmarais 4 and J. R. Lindquist 2.

Scoring Race

Billy Vickers leads the way with 162 points, followed by Jim Terrion with 143, Tony Romano 129, Scott Zimmerman 113 and Dick Kelley 108.

Ballardvale Maintains Perfect Record

By Rick Harrison

Ballardvale United continued to have things its own way in the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate "Blue" Division, liking its overall record to a perfect 11-0 following a come-from-behind 37-22 victory over Christ Church B.

In other recent action, St. Robert's B remained three games back in second place following a 25-10 conquest of St. Robert's A, and St. Augustine C rolled along in third after its 38-6 romp over Christ Church A.

Ballardvale, 37-22

BU, resting its powerful 1-2 scoring punch of Steve Todd and Rod Hollenbeck, fell behind Christ Church B 12-0 in the early going as Steve Blair, Billy Earnshaw and Jeanne Blair led the underdogs to what looked like a commanding advantage.

In the second quarter, however, Todd poured through 13 points and Hollenbeck added eight as United swept to a 21-12 half-time edge.

The second half was merely academic, as Ballardvale increased its lead in the third period and then withstood a late C-C outburst.

Steve Todd led all scorers with 19 points, Rod Hollenbeck chipped in 14, and single third period buckets were delivered by John McIntyre and Dana Belpedio.

Scott Stephens and Tom Darling were other standouts for BU.

Steve Blair cracked double figures for C-C with 12 points, Jeanne Blair netted 6 and Billy Earnshaw tossed in 4 markers.

Nancy Rogers and Eric Anderson also played well for C-C.

St. Robert's B, 25-10

Jeff Vecchi flipped in all seven of his team's first period points, as St. Robert's B grabbed a quick 7-2 lead and was never seriously threatened the rest of the way by St. Robert's A.

Vecchi emerged as game-high marksman for the winners with 15 points, while John Veilleux, Bob Dziadosz, Joe Vecchi, Tim Miller and Jim Veilleux contributed one basket apiece.

Kevin Ward, Chris Chinchillo and Dave Lindsey turned in fine floor games for the victors.

Chris Fay popped through 4 points to pace sister club St. Robert's A, which was missing four players including high-scoring Kevin Byrne.

Adding solo fieldgoals for the A crew were John Williams, Brian Molloy and John Terrion. Geoff Dowell also played well.

St. Augustine C, 38-6

St. Augustine C used a balanced seven-player attack to sink Christ Church A, 38-6.

Paul Burke was the top scorer with 8 points, Tim O'Reilly had 7, Danny Beckerman 6, Jay Madden 6, Pete Zompa 6, Scott McNamara 3 and Tom Finneran 2 points.

Joe Madden and Rich Sullivan chipped in excellent defensive efforts for the winners.

Roger Fisk and Alan Gable pumped in buckets for C-C, while free throws were swished by Tim Jennings and Mark Asgeirsson.

Other hustling performances were turned in by Lori Franzese, Cheryl Hough, Beth Deacon, Chip Wood and Steve Francis.

Scoring Race

Steve Todd of Ballardvale maintains his scoring leadership for the Blue Division with 152 points.

Jeff Vecchi has taken over second place with 109 points, moving Rod Hollenbeck to a close third with 107.

Coach Bill Vickers' crew swept through a perfect 18-0 campaign, rarely being seriously challenged, and in the process the Golden Warrior yearlings captured the Merrimack Valley Conference championship just as their varsity counterparts did.

Expert Gliders

Frigate birds live around the world in warm ocean regions. The wing-spread is 6-7 feet; they weigh about three pounds, the lightest of any similar-sized bird, according to Massachusetts Audubon. Expert gliders, frigate birds rob food from boobies and terns, intercepting the victims as they return from fishing grounds.

Sailors named these birds for the fast sailing frigates that captured trading vessels.

Spectacle

Ducks, Geese, sandhill cranes and whoping cranes arriving along the Platte River Valley in Nebraska during Spring and Autumn form one of the nation's great wildlife spectacles. However, irrigation wells, about 1,000 of them, are being drilled each month in the valley and the habitat will disappear in 30 years, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

As befits its racy British heritage, the MG is America's reigning classic sports car. In fact, MG has been winning hearts—and races—for more than fifty years now. Find out why. Drive the wide-open MG soon.

WE'VE EARNED OUR STRIPES.

While stripes do not a sportscar make, trophies do. And that's just what souped-up Number 43 has been winning for the past few years. This all-out, hellbent-for-leather sportscar is, believe-it-or-not, a Volkswagen. A 170 horsepower, 150-miles-per-hour, Bilstein shocks, transistorized ignition, racing slicks Volkswagen! From Daytona Beach to Watkins Glen, our racing Scirocco blew by Jaguars, Corvettes, Javelins, and Datsun 260-Z's on its streak to victory as the 1976 Trans Am Champ for Touring Cars under 2 liters. So you know when we say our more modest but very racy street Scirocco means business, we mean business.

Inside Scirocco you'll find everything that makes a grand-touring car grand. And to get you where you're going in short order, the Scirocco is equipped with a 1.5-liter fuel-injected overhead cam engine that turns 0 to 50 in 8.2 seconds. Front-wheel drive, rack-and-pinion steering and power-assisted front disc brakes steer it and stop it like a champ, too.

Scirocco. A sleek Italian-styled 2+2 sportscar in the tradition of the master stylist, Giugiaro. To be sure, it's no paper tiger with stripes.

Sawyer Announces For Congress

William C. Sawyer, Acton attorney, has announced that he will seek the Republican nomination for the congressional seat now held by U. S. Rep. Paul Tsongas (D-Lowell).

Sawyer launched his campaign in Lawrence, as elderly residents of the area arrived to take part in the meal program for the elderly at St. Ann's Church, saying he chose the location because he believes so strongly that the elderly are a resource which this country can't afford to under-use.

The 49-year-old Harvard graduate is a partner in the Boston law firm of Burlington & Sawyer. He is a former Acton Selectman and a member of the Board of Appeals.

HESITATION CAN BE COSTLY

Once you put real estate on the market, you have to make up your mind to move when the right offer comes. Your asking price should come pretty close to your selling price if you have priced your property realistically. The right offer may be your first offer, and if you turn it down, you may never get another as good.

However, the offer should be a written one — the only kind that has any real significance and on which you can depend.

Just remember that a legitimate offer should be accompanied by a good-sized check depend-ding on the selling price. Never accept a verbal promise and take your property off the market. The next day, a good sale may be lost if you are tied up in this type of questionable transaction. You'll never have to worry about this situation arising if the sale of your property is in the hands of a Realtor.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

COUNTRY ESTATE

Andover landmark! A rare opportunity to possess a life long dream. Perfectly located near town within walking distance to Bancroft school on four acres. This property includes the main house, a large barn and a four car garage with office or in-law apartment.

The original dwelling has been well preserved, and the excellent additions by the architect Radford Abbot blend exterior design and interior space. This home has all the warmth and detailed craftsmanship that builders could create when time and materials were abundant.

The front entrance hall travels throughout the house: beginning with: the formal 26x16 living room and the large dining room, on to the fireplaced den, guest suite and the antique panell-ed family room with 2 fireplaces which is adjacent to the modern kitchen, laundry and back entrance. The most exciting and newest addition is a tremendous 26x18 fireplaced cathedral ceiling game room with bay window overlooking rolling meadows and orchards. Upstairs are five family sized bedrooms and two baths. Under the new game room a bonus! — Heated workshop with bay window and double doors — to remove boats or planes after they're built.

The office contains three heated rooms and bath. The barn satisfies requirements for the most avid horse love. We have exhausted our superlatives — come see this lovely home.

Candidate's Night

town meeting, such as what it would be used for, what it would cost and if it weren't bought now, would it be lost forever?

Abramson said he felt there is some marginal land in town that should be designated as wetlands. The remaining buildable would then go up in price, he said and that would be a non-expensive way of slowing growth.

It's possible, he added, that 75 percent of the cost of the Turner Farm could be reimbursed by the state and federal governments, so that the town might get it for $85,000. With the possibility of running it at a profit, he said, it would be cheaper to buy it, and "aesthetically better" for the town.

Generally, Haartz said, conservation is a highly profitable operation. In 1847, he said, Boston wanted to sell the Common, but the voters fortunately disagreed. If they had two more Commons today, he said, Boston wouldn't have the problems it does.

Mrs. Lake said the town should make every effort possible, commensurate with its ability to pay, to delay developments or preserve lands as they stand. She said the costs to quality of life and of services could well be burdensome beyond the ability to pay.

In closing statements, Mrs. Lake pointed to her three previous year's experience on the board, and felt there were many areas of town government in which she has expertise, as well as the time.

Salamone, confessed to a "love affair" with town meeting, and said the key to keeping it is to have an effective town manager-selectman form of government. He said he felt the keeping the tax rate stable is a three-year challenge.

Haartz said he has been an active member of town meeting for years, and now wants to be on the inside doing something rather than the outside looking in.

Springs

Spring driving often included mini-vacation trips to enjoy the return of milder weather, and that often means an extra burden on the springs due to additional passengers, luggage, sporting equipment, etc. If this added weight makes your car ride low, new springs will improve the ride and handling characteristics. The replacement of worn leaf springs is often an expensive proposition.

Abramson felt his business background would be an asset to the board. Businessmen have to do one thing, he said: make a decision in a certain time frame, and sometimes even without all the information. There are times that the board needs to do that too, he said.

Redman To Tour With Choir

George Redman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Redman of Andover, will tour the Eastern part of the United States later this month with the Hamilton-Kirkland Choir.

Redman, who lives at 234 Highland Road in Andover, is a junior at Hamilton College. From March 27 through April 2, he will help the Hamilton-Kirkland Choir sing in five cities in states ranging from South Carolina to Pennsylvania.

The Hamilton-Kirkland Choir is comprised of students from Hamilton and Kirkland Colleges, which are coordinate liberal arts institutions in central New York. This year the Choir offers a varied selection of sacred music, including the world premier performance of "Rorate Coeli," by the Scottish composer Thea Musgrave.

Moose come out of the woods to be milked in response to morning bugle at Kostroma, near Moscow, the Massachusetts Audubon Society says. They give about six quarts, and the milk is five times richer in protein and fat than cow's milk, life in a herd is the most difficult aspect of domestication for a moose.

Tune-Up

Check your owner's manual to determine if it is time to tune the engine. Specifications vary, but spring is often one of the recommended times for a tune-up. If so, here are the parts and operations involved: spark plugs, points and condenser (if any), carburetor adjustment, air filter, all components of the emission control system, the distributor spark advance, and the ignition timing.
